Cora Voce - Music that speaks to the soul

Cora Voce is a Tacoma-based ensemble of about 40 singers dedicated to sharing and performing high-quality choral music. Our mission is: to inspire, enrich and educate.

Under the artistic direction of Randy Spitzer since 2006, Cora Voce presents thematic programs with a broad range of choral styles, periods and languages, both sacred and secular. Cora Voce also frequently commissions and premieres new music, some written/arranged by members of the choir.

“Besides performing high-quality choral music, our goal is to build community with our members, our audiences and our community stakeholders.

We aim to present performances that inspire the soul, enrich the lives of our members and our audiences and educate young aspiring musicians.”

Randy Spitzer, Artistic Director

Annual Fundraising

Our mission is to inspire, enrich and educate through high-quality choral music. Over the past seven seasons, Cora Voce has supported eleven public school choral music programs in Kitsap and Pierce Counties with $70,000 in grants.

Past recipients include Vaughn, Sunnyslope, East Port Orchard, Discovery and Maplewood Elementary Schools; Aylen Junior, Gig Harbor, Bremerton, and Spanaway Lake High Schools. This year's recipients are Emerald Ridge High School in Puyallup and Peninsula High School in Gig Harbor. Beside receiving a check, each school is invited to perform with Cora Voce on one of our concerts.

High school students of grantor choirs are offered an opportunity to sing as interns with Cora Voce for one series and to receive a small college scholarship. Our artistic director also volunteers his time to work with each choir at their schools throughout the school year.
